Suggests List Of Appointees

Not since the selection of the Twelve Apostles has the public been treated to such a painfully deliberate recruitment of individuals as rounded out the cabinet of Jack Kennedy. About all one can say is that it is an amazing assemblage of New Frontier-looking individuals. The difficulty in filling these important jobs can be emphasized when one realizes that Big Brother Jack had not even met some of the appointees.

In the coming months and years ahead, additional vacancies and new billets will occur and the securing of good men will be doubly difficult. In the interest of being of some assistance to Jack I have taken the trouble of preparing a listing of worthy individuals of goodly heritage for consideration to future appointments. These people have been appropriately cleared by the Committee for an Effective Congress, Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, Prime Minister Nehru, Walter Reuther and the New York Times.

Chairman, Subcommittee, Activities Control Board: James Roosevelt; Ambassador to Italy: Frank Sinatra; Ambassador to Ghana: Sammy Davis Jr.; Secretary for "Growth": John K. Galbraith; Asst. Secretary for "Growth Enforcement": Joe Clark; Chairman, National Labor Relations Board: Father Charles Clee; Foreign Competition Study Commission: David MacDonald, James Carey, Walter Reuther; Appointments Secretary: Pectuh Lawford; Ambassador to the People's Government: William O. Douglas; Chairman, Atomic Energy Commission: Lanus Pauling; Secretary of What-ever-hastobedone: Ted Kennedy; Chairman, Sacco-Vanzetti Arts Commission: Michael Musmanno; Director of Central Intelligence Agency: Cyrus Eaton.

Naturally this is by no means a complete listing of qualified individuals. In the case of extreme difficulty in securing capable appointees a member of the Kennedy family is sure to be available.
